

Animal Communication Workshops with Danika Nadzan

Because one of my goals is to teach as many people as possible to communicate with all species, I have developed these two low-cost workshops:

1. The Introductory workshop is designed to teach the basics of telepathic animal communication, including physical body scanning.
2. The Advanced class further develops your skills, and expands to include wild creatures and deceased pets.

Intro to Animal Communication. $35/person. Learn the basics of how to communicate telepathically with your pet, whatever the species. I believe anyone can do it—you just need an open mind, a few instructions, and some practice! As an added bonus, I also teach you how to perform a telepathic physical scan of your pet's body. This skill can help you detect physical issues before they become serious.

Participants bring paper, pen, and photographs of one or two pets showing the face and body clearly. In this class, we work with animals who are still living.

Advanced Animal Communication. $45/person. Prerequisite, Intro to Animal Communication or comparable class. This workshop helps participants expand and refine their telepathic animal communication and physical scan skills. Working with and without photographs, students will contact pets both living and deceased, as well as wild creatures and guides. Each class is different, and additional topics depend on the interests of the participants.

I do both workshops in person and by phone/internet. Each workshop lasts 2 to 2 1/2 hours.

- For in-person workshops, I can do both in one afternoon. If you attend both in one day, cost is $75. (Minimum 6, maximum 12 participants.)
- Anyone with a phone and internet connection can participate in the online workshops. (Minimum 4, maximum 8 participants.)
- Due to the length of time, I only do one online/phone workshop in a day. Cost is same.
- If you host an in-person workshop, or have 3 or more friends join you in an online workshop, you can attend for free! Contact me for details.

Pre-registration and payment is required for any workshop. Contact me at MountainStar57@gmail.com or 215-469-4029 to register.

Pets do not attend the workshops; participants work from photographs. (Pets in attendance cause a lot of distraction, and working from photographs reinforces that the participants are actually communicating, not just reading body language.) Participants bring paper, pen, and photographs of one or two pets showing the face and body clearly.

Please note that I do not do consultations during my workshops; I teach participants how to do animal communication themselves.

For In-Person Workshops:

- Class size is limited: minimum 6, maximum 12 so I can give more personal attention and the participants have a variety of animals to practice with.
- All that's needed is a quiet space with room enough for chairs and the participants. Tables are nice, but not necessary.
- We work from photographs, so pets do not attend.
- For in-person workshops, I prefer to stay within a reasonable drive of my home in Blue Bell, PA.

For Phone/Internet Workshops:

- Class size is limited: minimum 4, maximum 8, so it doesn't get too confusing.
- All you need is a phone (headset is helpful) and an email to send your pet photos and receive workshop materials.
- Anyone from anywhere can participate, so if you have friends who'd like to attend a workshop but live far away, this may be a good option.
- I live in the Eastern Time Zone of the U.S. I will do my best to accommodate participants from other time zones when choosing a time for the workshop.
